Preparing Tomorrow's Legal Minds

At the Faculty of Law, you'll embark on a journey into the heart of legal study, where critical thinking and a deep understanding of legal frameworks are paramount. This two-week program is crafted for those who are passionate about the law and eager to explore the complexities of justice, governance, and human rights.

Your studies at the Faculty of Law will cover fundamental areas such as constitutional law, criminal law, and international law, offering a broad perspective on how legal systems operate at both national and global levels. Through case studies, legal debates, and moot courts, you will engage with real-world legal issues, honing your ability to analyze, argue, and apply the law effectively.

What sets the Faculty of Law apart is its focus on the real-world application of legal principles. You will participate in simulated legal proceedings, where you can experience firsthand the challenges of courtroom advocacy and legal negotiation.

These practical exercises are designed to build your confidence and skills in legal reasoning, public speaking, and client interaction.

Throughout your time in the program, you'll work closely with your peers in collaborative projects and discussions, reflecting the collaborative nature of the legal profession. Additionally, you will be mentored by experienced legal practitioners who will guide you through the intricacies of the law and share insights from their professional journeys.

Studying at the Faculty of Law is more than just an academic pursuit; it's a preparation for a future where you can influence, advocate, and uphold the principles of justice. Whether you aspire to become a lawyer, a policy maker, or a legal scholar, this program will provide the foundational skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in the legal field.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, you will have a comprehensive understanding of the foundational principles of law, including constitutional law, criminal law, and contract law. You will develop the ability to critically analyze legal issues, construct coherent arguments, and communicate effectively in a legal context. This course is ideal for those aspiring to pursue careers in law, public service, or legal consultancy.

Module 1

Foundations of Law and Legal Systems

Gain an in-depth understanding of fundamental legal concepts, including the sources of law, judicial precedents, and the role of the judiciary, with a focus on navigating the complexities of legal interpretation and application through case studies and discussions.

Module 2

Criminal Law and Justice

Explore criminal law with a focus on legal frameworks and justice systems, covering criminal liability, defenses, and principles of punishment, while examining the impact of legal processes on societal justice and public safety.

Module 3

Human Rights and International Law

Learn about the critical concepts of human rights within international law, including the development of human rights norms, key treaties, and the role of global institutions, with practical exercises in advocating for rights and applying international law in varied contexts.

Previous projects include:

Project 1: "Advocating for Criminal Justice Reform" – A comprehensive analysis of current criminal justice policies with recommendations for legislative changes.

Project 2: "Contractual Disputes in Digital Transactions" – A proposal addressing the challenges and solutions for contractual disputes in the evolving digital marketplace.

Time to Shine

For your Time to Shine project, you will undertake an extended legal research or advocacy project that allows you to apply the legal theories and principles you have learned. This project will culminate in a presentation or written submission where you will argue a legal case or propose a legislative reform.

Industry Experience

Gain firsthand insight into the legal profession with our industry experience sessions. You will have the opportunity to visit courts, law firms, or legal departments of major corporations, where you can observe legal proceedings, interact with practitioners, and understand the challenges of practicing law in various settings.

Guest Speakers

Our programme features guest speakers who are leaders in the legal field. These experts will share their experiences, discuss the latest developments in law, and provide valuable advice on navigating a successful legal career.

Academic Coaching

Throughout the course, you will receive personalised academic coaching to help you achieve your academic and professional goals. Our experienced tutors will provide feedback on your work, assist you in honing your legal reasoning, and guide you in developing the skills essential for success in the legal field.
